

GEN. PERSHING REVIEWS TROOPS ALONG THE RHINE

Inspects All Branches of Army of Occu- pation

COBLENZ, Friday, March 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—General John J. Pershing, who is inspecting the fighting divisions of the American army of occupation had his first sight this morning of American troops in combat formation on German soil. On a six hundred acre plateau on the east bank of the Rhine, overlooking Coblenz and the winding river, he inspected the second division and presented more than eighty decorations. He later reviewed the division, which passed before him in massed formations, the marching time of the twenty four thousand men being about twenty minutes.

Mounted on a dappled gray cavalry horse, which was presented Brigadier General John L. Hines, commander of the Third army corps by the British mission, General Pershing inspected the supply trains, ammunition units and motorized artillery and then passed on to the infantry.

Talks to Soldiers
The commander-in-chief in this part of the program walked along the lines of soldiers devoting more than an hour to the work. He questioned company commanders as to their quarters and in reference to conditions generally. He talked to several outstanding soldiers, including one who had been wounded in the battle of the Argonne, and asked others if they wanted to go home. Without exception they were eager to return to America as soon as possible for family and business reasons, but all were perfectly willing, they said, to serve as long as it is necessary for the United States to keep an army in Europe. In reply to a query as to whether he was willing to stay over here one soldier replied:

"I have a job waiting for me in the states, but I want to stay here as long as the government needs me."

At the head of the line of those receiving decorations and for the moment outranking two generals was Sergeant Louis Van Israel, of Newark, N. J., whose mother is living in Holland. He was given the Congressional medal of honor. During the battle of the Argonne he crossed the Meuse, fell into a German trap, escaped and again crossed the river with valuable information as to the enemy's positions.

Presented Decorations
Major General John A. LeJeune, commander of the second division was given the distinguished service medal and received the insignia of commander of the French Legion of Honor. Brig. Gen. W. C. Neville, commander of the marine brigade at Belleau Wood, was decorated with the distinguished service medal. Seventy eight soldiers received distinguished service crosses.

The plateau where the review took place was used for years by the Eighth German army corps for the same purpose.

This afternoon General Pershing inspected and reviewed the First division, which he helped to organize in Washington for service in France. The review took place at Montabauer.

Landis Finds Packing Co. Is In A Bad Mess

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, March 15.—As a result of investigation of tangled financial affairs of the Consumers Packing company, federal Judge Landis today ordered a telegram sent to the secretary of state Emerson of Illinois, notifying him that the company was in bankruptcy and in a bad mess and that its "blue sky" license should be revoked.

The jurist also directed his bailiff to send a telegram to Joseph E. Davies, of Washington, former chairman of the federal trade commission, inviting him to appear next week and testify regarding services he was said to have rendered the company.

"Be sure and state in your telegram that the court will grant Mr. Davies leave to return to $7,500 which he received from the company under a misapprehension," added the judge.

Edward J. Ader, former secretary of the company and one of the six held to the grand jury told the judge that Mr. Davies was employed for $7,500 although at first asking $15,000 to appear before the capital issues committee in an attempt to obtain a government license to proceed with the promotion of the company but he said the license was not obtained.

Germany Will Turn Over Ships To The Allies

(By The Associated Press.)
BRUSSELS, Friday, March 14.—The German delegates to the conference here regarding the taking over by the allies of the German mercantile fleet and the provisioning of Germany today definitely accepted the conditions imposed by the allies.

A board of control for German export will be established under the terms of the agreement. This board probably will have its headquarters at Rotterdam.

The Germans will be permitted to buy fish from Norway and resume their own fishing in the North sea.

The German representatives asked for a modification of the blockade, and while no promises were given them in this connection, in that direction as a matter of fact, have already been taken.

Those going to France and England immediately are cargo vessels in neutral ports in South and Central America and the Dutch East Indies. They will be permitted to leave with cargoes for Germany with German crews but under allied flags. When ships put out from German ports to be handed over they will be manned by Germans but on arrival in allied ports the crews will be replaced by allied crews. There is available in England for immediate movement to Germany approximately 30,000 tons of pork products, 5,000 tons of beans, 5,000 tons of rice and 15,000 tons of cereals. The United States has in Rotterdam and on the way there approximately 75,000 tons of breadstuffs.

A summary of agreement shows that payment by Germany will be made by freight hire accruing to the Germans for the use of the shipping and part from credits to establish and maintain in neutral countries; part from German exports; part from the sale of German-owned foreign securities and part by the use of German gold. The Germans agreed to place a deposit of gold in the national bank of Berlin in Brussels for use as collateral.

The Giant Imperator of 52,000 tons also will go to the United States. The Imperator is stuck in the mud but it is believed she can be floated in a few days. The total ships made available to the allies under the agreement number 1,500.

The vessels going to the United States are passenger ships on account of the American desire to use them for the transport of troops.

GERMAN SUBMARINE SUNK BY DESTROYER

PARIS, March 15.—The German submarine U-48 while attempting to escape from Ferrol, Spain, last night was chased by a destroyer and sunk, according to a Havas dispatch from Madrid.

The U-48 took refuge at Ferrol in March 1918 and was interned. The attempted flight of the U-boat was observed and the torpedo boat destroyer Antares pursued her. The German boat was sunk outside the Ferrol Roads. The crew was saved.

When the German submarine U-48 sought refuge at Ferrol her propellers were unshipped by the authorities and her guns and munitions were taken out.

The captain of the submarine declared that his craft had been engaged several times in a fight with three ships. The U-boat carried a crew of thirty men and for a time a Spanish warship stood guard over her. In 1917 the U-48 was reported off Bermuda.

Declares War Is Preferable To Peace League

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the military committee of the senate said in an address here tonight before the Mississippian Society that defeat of the treaty of peace and another war would be preferable to the surrender of a fundamental American right. He dwelt particularly upon the proposal of Viscount Ishii, the Japanese ambassador that the constitution of the league of nations forbid racial discrimination.

"The right of racial discrimination is purely a domestic question," said Senator Chamberlain. "It is not an international question. Now however, Japan wants to make an international question of it. If the clause of Viscount Ishii is adopted it will be the constitution of the league of nations is permitted to stand it means that we must let down the bars to the admission of Orientals. That would mean the ruin of the west."

"But if the allies refuse to allow the plea of Japan and that nation declines to join the league then we will have three outlawed nations—Germany, Russia and Japan. Then what becomes of our world peace? The three outlawed nations could unite and bring on another world war. I think we should very frankly discuss these questions. We should face the perils and be ready to meet them. I am not among those who believe that discussion should be deferred. The danger is present and should be frankly pointed out."

"I believe in a league of nations but it must be such a league as will not take away a single fundamental American right. Rather than see this done I would defeat the treaty and witness another great war."

"I hope our president whom we all love, respect and revere, will manage to obtain for the world a league of nations that will prove of such power as to bring war to an end. I have told some of my friends in the senate that they should not be so strong in their opposition to the proposed constitution as to leave the president without power to conclude a treaty which would provide for a perfectly acceptable league."

DEMAND CHAMP CLARK'S VIEWS ON LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Champ Clark was asked to declare his position on the league of nations, in a telegram sent to him at New Orleans by Representative Mays of Nebraska.

Mr. Clark had publicly denied making any statement. Mr. Mays message was made public tonight by the organization of Democratic members of the house who oppose the selection of Mr. Clark as minority leader in the next congress.

"All other prominent public men have announced their position on this vital public question," said Mr. Mays. "May we ask what are your suggestions? We desire you to come out in the open like other public men assuming to lead in official position. We remember you did not vote for the war resolution and that you spoke and voted against the selective draft. We remember your attitude thruout the period of the war as being out of sympathy with the administration."

"Do you now propose to act in harmony with the majority view or to compel the majority to act in accordance with your views?"

SUPREME WAR COUNCIL TAKES UP DISARMAMENT

Final Consideration of Military, Naval and Aerial Terms

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, March 15.—[By The Associated Press.]—The supreme war council resumed its sessions this afternoon, expecting that President Wilson would be present for the final consideration of the military, naval and aerial terms of the German disarmament.

The president did not attend, however, Colonel House taking his place as the draft of the terms in treaty form had not been completed in time to permit of study before the meeting. The president received the full draft late this afternoon and went over it tonight article by article with General Bliss and Admiral Benson at the Paris white house.

With the president absent the council deferred the military and naval terms until Monday.

The French frontiers of Germany was the next subject on the program but the British prime minister was not prepared to proceed on this also was deferred. Mr. Lloyd George left the council room soon after learning that President Wilson would not attend and proceeded to the "White House" for a conference on the situation.

Various Delays

The inevitable delays on various details lead to doubts for the first time in American quarters on completing the treaty by March 25. It has developed also that Mr. Lloyd George is obliged to return to London the middle of the coming week, and he is unable to say how long he will be gone owing to the British labor congress and other subjects requiring his attention in London. It is hoped that he will return within a week or ten days or possibly turn over British interests to Mr. Balfour but his absence may have the effect of prolonging the conclusion of the treaty beyond the 25th.

It was stated at American headquarters that the treaty now being framed would be the definite treaty covering all the main subjects and not a preliminary treaty. It is the treaty which will be submitted to the United States senate for ratification and after its conclusion the remaining details will be largely formalities.

No decision has yet been made concerning the seat of the league of nations but the minister of foreign affairs of Belgium has written offering one of the historic palaces of Brussels as the home of the league, if Brussels is chosen. American sentiment continues to favor Geneva.

Leon Bourgeois, French delegate on the league of nations will hold a conference with Colonel House tomorrow concerning two proposed amendments to the covenant, dealing with investigations by the league of the military status of all the member countries.

Frank Hitchcock accompanied M. Bourgeois and the American delegates who attended the league of nations congress at London, is now back in Paris taking an active interest in the league.

Insists of League Form

If President Wilson insists that the league of nations be incorporated in the preliminary peace treaty, the British, it is understood will concede the point although they still believe that the preliminary pact is not the proper place for the inauguration of the league which they declare should be included in the final peace pact. This attitude was indicated today after the announcement that the American delegation strongly desired the inclusion of the league in the preliminary treaty as well as in the final pact.

The British, it is made known, do not wish to delay the league of nations program on anyway but they express the keenest desire for the immediate signing of the preliminary peace treaty so as to alleviate unsatisfactory conditions resulting from the continuation of the armistice. In order to get speedy action they propose to strip the preliminary pact of all extraneous matters which they believe include the league of nations. The league under the British program would be taken up immediately after the conclusion of the preliminaries of peace and with any amendments which might be added would be made part of the final pact.

Organization Formed To Fight Prohibition

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 15.—Organization of the association opposed to national prohibition was announced here tonight with the avowed "prime purpose" of making the eighteenth amendment to the constitution "forever inoperative."

Application for incorporation under the laws of New York will be made next week. Among the incorporators will be Percival S. Hill, president of the American Tobacco company; Joseph W. Harriman, president of the Harriman National Bank; and Michael Friedman, president of B. Altman & Co. No person officially connected with the organization it was declared has any interest in the liquor business.

Plans for organization of branches in twenty-nine states have been laid it was announced, and nearly 800,000 persons already have applied for membership.

The organization it was declared stands on the principle of personal rights and liberties and is opposed to introduction of any bills in congress or in the various state legislatures differentiating between light wines and beer and whiskey. It is a strongly opposed, the statement declared, to prohibition on constitutional amendment of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

The organization also proposes to disseminate information regarding the political, social and economic effort of the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic beverages to promote temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages. "and to come any movement to limit or discontinue the use of tobacco."

The organization will hold mass meetings and parades in forty-three cities on April 19. A national convention is to be held the announcement says between April 1 and June 15.

DECLARES LEAGUE IS DOOMED TO FAILURE

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, March 15.—Col. George Harvey, editor of the North American Review in an address before a gathering of bankers tonight, declared the league of nations as drawn "is doomed to failure" but that the substance of the plan has not been and will not be abandoned.

Colonel Harvey declared that America is only a cat's paw and no foreign powers care for the welfare of the United States and is not giving a thought to it, except to gain advantage and to obtain control of America's vast resources. He asserted that he would not under any circumstances attack the president but he asserted "we are too prone to make a fetish of our chief magistrate and to regard his every act as of origin so nearly approaching divine as to be practically immune even to discussion."

The speaker said that the people are asked to "divest our nation of its full independence and its most cherished tradition, and to sacrifice in part at least our sovereignty."

"The present league proposal," he continued, "is perpetual covenant from which none of the parties can withdraw with honor or without in effect declaring war upon the rest of the world."

"The president is so fully committed to the project, and so firmly convinced of the support of the people that a test of the sentiment of the country is inevitable," said Colonel Harvey. "Whether he will succeed in convincing the delegates of the other powers of his ability to so entwine the league of nations with the peace treaty proper as to enable him to coerce the senate some doubtful, but failing that there is hardly a question of his fetching home some kind of proposition upon which to raise a definite issue before the country."

U. S. SOLDIERS BROUGHT HOME IN CATTLE CARS

Charges are Made By Senator Chamberlain of Oregon

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Charges that American soldiers from western states were moved from an Atlantic port of debarkation to their homes in cattle cars were made by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, chairman of the military committee in the last senate in an address here tonight before the Mississippian Society.

"I will not tell you where these gallant boys debarked," said Senator Chamberlain, "because I propose to investigate the case further with a view to definitely fixing the responsibility. But the story told me only today was that these boys were placed in cars used for carrying livestock. They had to lie down except that they could be given by lanterns and nothing to eat except canned goods."

"In this way they traveled for four days. Do you think that as they proceeded on their journey they cultivated additional love for the country for which they had fought and suffered? They were in constant anger of getting into a spirit of disregard for the institutions of their country."

"The man immediately in charge should be held responsible and Americans will demand a reckoning at his hands."

IT'S A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Now that the federal employment department is out of business there is all the more reason for cities taking upon themselves the burden of meeting unemployment conditions. This is particularly true in the larger cities. The president of the national federal bureau, now out of business because of lack of funds, in a statement just issued declares with truth that there are sound business reasons why cities should take upon themselves this work. It is really an investment to provide employment, as the larger cities will thus prevent the spread of the Bolshevik movement.

TAKING CONSISTENT ACTION.

Minnesota has just passed a stringent law which makes provision for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment when it becomes effective. Each state has some different method proposed for enforcing the law but there has been a praise worthy willingness on the part of the government legislative bodies to adopt special laws needed to carry out the purpose of the amendment. The legislators are thus showing themselves consistent and realize that the success of the prohibition movement will depend on the proper enforcement of the law's provision.

WORD ABOUT WITH A SENATOR.

He is a brave man who engages in a word bout with Senator Sherman. The Illinois senator is sometimes overly sharp in his language but nevertheless he has a picturesqueness of expression and a forcefulness with words which few can approach. So it happened that Parson Wegenknecht of Oak Park, who addressed a letter to the senator after his congregation had adopted a resolution in which a violent protest was made against Senator Sherman's attitude on the league of nations, was plainly abusive in his language and classed all senators and congressmen who opposed Sherman as fools. Senator Sherman's reply is of the kind that might be expected from that source. He wrote: "You clearly need a lesson in toleration. Evidently you are of that breed of ecclesiastics who in another age tortured those who did not believe with them. I count myself fortunate in having thus far escaped your sermons, theology and politics."

LOWDEN DOESN'T FAVOR ARMORIES NOW.

Gov. Lowden has not lost any real friends by his opposition to the erection of armories in various cities of Illinois. He classifies them as "pork barrel measures" at this time and in a recent speech said that while in favor of building armories at this time, when the definite needs are not at all certain. The scramble for armories in a state way compares quite well with the nation wide demand for public buildings.

GIVING AGRICULTURE ITS DUES.

Kansas is proposing to develop its agriculture, not by lending farmers money on the amortization plan, payable thru a long period of years, but instead by a law now proposed for the state to purchase lands and then resell to farmers on the installment plan. By this means it is hoped to develop agriculture by reclaiming a lot of lands now going to waste, and also to interest a larger number of people in agriculture. Nearly all the states are coming to a truer recognition of the fact that agriculture is the basic industry and that its development has only just begun.

STRONG ENDORSEMENT FOR MR. WILSON.

George H. Wilson's candidacy for supreme court justice secured a big boost yesterday from two important sources. Statements were received at Mr. Wilson's headquarters from Attorney General Edward J. Brundage and Congressman J. W. Graham of Alton, strongly endorsing the Quincy man. Mr. Brundage's statement reads: "I have known George H. Wilson for years. As a lawyer, I know him to be of judicial temperament, energetic and well grounded in the law. His twenty-eight years of active practice, his varied experience and his studious character fit him for the Supreme Court to which he aspires. I wish him success." Congressman Graham speaks from years of personal association with Mr. Wilson. He says: "I was closely associated with George H. Wilson at the time when we were states' attorneys of our respective counties and later when we were members of the House of Representatives of Illinois. I came to regard him very highly as a lawyer and as a legislator. I know him to be well fitted for the position he seeks and will give him my cordial support."

GOOD DAYS IN JACKSONVILLE

If one looks about Jacksonville these days with unprejudiced vision, the reasons are many for great optimism, especially with respect to business conditions. Within the past year the streets have been improved with several miles of pavement. For the most part it is of high class quality, a kind which adds materially to the general appearance of the city. Miles and miles of sidewalks have been constructed and they were needed.

Jacksonville is being rapidly taken out of the mud. These improvements might be accounted as just a forerunner of the hard roads which will come to this county—perhaps some of them this year—certainly a considerable mileage next year and in 1921. The earth roads during the past winter have been unusually good and the effect upon business has been marked. For the trade area about Jacksonville has been materially enlarged since the coming of the automobile and road conditions make much more difference than used to be the case. When one thinks about automobile development and the widened trade area already mentioned, it is easy to understand what an extensive system of hard roads is going to mean to the business of this city.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the farm lands of this county—that is, good lands—have increased in price twenty to twenty-five per cent in less than a year's time. And those who make a study of agricultural conditions feel very sure that top prices have not yet been reached. For the lands of Morgan county quality are comparatively scarce—that is, considered in a nationwide way. While everybody has known of the increased land values, probably few have noted that a change is coming to city property. Nevertheless that is true, and there have been more sales within the past three months than recorded during the previous nine months. These sales in most instances have shown better real estate prices. Brokers do not disagree in their opinion that Jacksonville city property is decidedly on the up grade, and believe that prices will continue to advance at a reasonable and gradual way, reflecting the very prosperous business conditions of the county, and of the outside world as well.

Start out to find a house to rent in Jacksonville and you will take on a difficult task—that is, if you are looking for a dwelling of moderate size and with modern conveniences. In every city there are always some houses that are continually tenanted, and the reasons are always easy to ascertain. Just now the building of moderate sized houses for rent affords an excellent investment opportunity, for the demand is here and the available houses are few. If you look about the business district of Jacksonville and think of the changes that have come in the past year, you will find an unusual number of new business enterprises. And some others are in prospect. Merchants in Jacksonville are not getting rich rapidly, but you hear none of them complain, and business generally is moving along in a very satisfactory way.

Then, to get to the climax of good things actual and in prospect, there is the water supply program which is now well under way. The eager and patriotic manner in which citizens united in raising $125,000 for this project in the course of a few days was one of the best "signs of the times" which is forming the text for this statement. The present water program was outlined after much careful investigation and based upon such expert advice that those who understand the program do not hesitate to declare that the long talked about "adequate supply of pure water" for Jacksonville is now a matter of the very near future. When that supply is a reality it is going to make a vast difference for Jacksonville and will make the view here rosier than the facts narrated above. The city will not become a great manufacturing center, but some industries will come and it will improve as a residence center. There will be more homes, better houses and still higher prices for realty. And thus far the very best thing about the water project is the unanimity of spirit that the movement has seemingly brought about. The lack of the work-together spirit has in the past been the greatest lack, and somehow in the work and enthusiasm for this water project the old lines of division and the old spirit of distrust have somehow disappeared.

These are good days we are having now in Jacksonville and still better days are coming.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Things Are Changed.

Where late the frenzied fighters through fields of carnage burst, now able bodied writers are doing of their worst; the gifted lads are pouring out language weird and soaring, where lately guns were roaring, and muddy soldiers cursed. Where are the Teutons gone? Where are the dauntless Serbs. They've left the field of glory to raise string beans and herbs; and writers throng the places where warfare left its traces; and they get down to cases and shoot forth nouns and verbs. No more Bill's mighty legions along the landscape reach; no more in sunny region the shell and champagne screech; the peasant is not yelling while foemen burn his dwelling; but writers hold are shelling the world with parts of speech. No more the Prussians clamor to Gott in their despair; but musty chunks of grammar are whizzing through the air; where Ludy used to hurry, where Hinden used to worry, the shade of Lindley Murray now walks, denied a chair. Oh, hoch and donnerwetter, relieved we all must feel; a war of words is better than a war of steel; so let the scribes be swarming in ranks for further storming, their bloodless deeds performing where armies used to reel.

MERITS SPECIAL HONORS.

Mention was made yesterday that the remains of Sergt Hughes, whose death occurred on the transport America, are to arrive this morning. They will be conveyed to the Gillham undertaking rooms and funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock with burial in Diamond Grove cemetery. A number of well known citizens yesterday commented upon the fact that some special honor should be paid to the memory of this deceased soldier. His funeral will be the first for any member of Co. B. engaged in overseas service and held here. Sergt Hughes enlisted early in the war with the Jacksonville company, was sent to Quincy for training and a few weeks later was on the way to France. He saw months of active service. Other members of the company have paid the supreme sacrifice but no company B. man's funeral has previously been held here.

HIGHLY DRAMATIC ROLE FOR GERALDINE FARRAR

"Shadows" is Geraldine Farrar's new Goldwyn Picture. It comes to the Rialto Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Pitched in a high dramatic key it tells the story of a woman who has found happiness out of misery and who fights for that happiness when disaster seems about to sweep her. Her life in larks, when she was known as Cora Lamont, the plaything of brutal Jack McGoof, is almost forgotten in her life as the honored wife of Judson Barnes, a conservative New Yorker.

ORGANIZE DISTRICT IN TUBERCULOSIS WORK

Representatives of Nine Counties Here Saturday—Dr. Fiegenbaum Made Address—Open Clinic for Visitors.

Representatives of nine or ten counties of this congressional district met at the Peacock Inn Saturday morning to organize the tuberculosis association of the 20th congressional district. After some discussion a temporary organization was formed, with the understanding that officers will be elected at the next regular meeting which will be held some time in the course of the next three months. A constitution was adopted which provides that meetings shall be held not less frequently than once in three months. The purpose of the organization is to increase interest in tuberculosis work in all the counties of the district. It is hoped that in each county after the work is thoroughly understood that a public health nurse may be employed. It has been the experience of all counties where health nurses have served that the increase in interest is certain to follow.

Noonday Luncheon.

The conference was called to order by Mrs. A. L. Adams, whose activity in tuberculosis work has given her prominence all thru the central part of Illinois. The tuberculosis work in Morgan county has been developed in a larger way than in most counties of the district and it is hoped that thru the work of the association that the tuberculosis interest in each of the ten counties may later be on a par. After this conference came the luncheon and still later with Dr. H. C. Woltman presiding, came a discussion of the various matters relating to tuberculosis work. An address was delivered by Dr. E. W. Fiegenbaum, president of the Illinois State Medical society, and a director of the state tuberculosis society. Dr. Fiegenbaum's theme was "The Importance of Organization in Tuberculosis Work."

The speaker pointed out that the war had emphasized the need of battling with the great white plague and said that many local boards had found thousands of cases of tuberculosis not previously known to exist. The soldiers in the service thru the arduousness of their war days, developed tubercular tendencies. Dr. Fiegenbaum said that one of the greatest difficulties in tuberculosis work in his part of the state was the lack of funds. He thoroughly believes that there should be federal and state aid for this work. There is no reason, in Mr. Fiegenbaum's belief, why the government should aid in suppressing other diseases which people bring upon themselves and then not give assistance in the suppressing of a disease which people unwittingly contract.

Following this address Dr. Milligan told something about tuberculosis work in France by comparison with work here. Miss Katherine Olmsted, who has had experience as a Red Cross nurse in Romania and Russia, gave a valuable summary of her observations of tuberculosis conditions in the countries mentioned. Reports were made from representatives in the various counties and altogether the conference was of a very helpful kind.

Demonstration Work
The visitors had the opportunity of inspecting the work at the Morgan county clinic, where demonstrations were given by Dr. H. C. Woltman, Dr. Milligan and Dr. C. E. Cole. An interesting visit to the Tuberculosis sanatorium was also made. Later the visitors were taken to Passavant hospital, where everything possible was done to give them the desired opportunity for observation. Dr. Cole was in charge of the demonstration and the arrangements made by the hospital management were such that the visitors could observe all stages of the disease and the treatment and care given. Dr. H. A. Chapin provided the X-Ray machine and so assisted Dr. Cole in a very important way. The visitors were of one mind in declaring that the demonstration was of both great profit and interest to them.

The Mound Woman's Club held their annual open meeting with Mrs. W. S. Jones on the Mound Road, each member inviting a guest. There was quite a large attendance. The house was prettily decorated in pink, pink roses helping to carry out the color scheme. Mr. G. B. Kendall gave the address of the afternoon which was very much enjoyed by the audience of progressive farmers from the vicinity of the Mound. One main feature of his address was the need of community centers with a community man to boost all projects. Delicious refreshments were served by the club. The April meeting will be with Mrs. Strawn.

Ask Dad

Just ask Dad to stay at home one day and do the family wash.

Dad won't do it. He'll say there ought not to be a wash day at all — that the home isn't the place to do the wash.

Dad will say to send all the wash to the laundry. And Dad will be right.

All things considered it costs less to have us do the washing than to do it at home.

SOME DAY

Our city, called by many folks, "The Athens of the West," will some day take her place beside the very best.

That day will come when you and I, and the rest, quit pulling back, and put our shoulders to the wheel, and boost her up the track.

We're going to have a mayor that we know has got the push, and to show us that his heart is right, he will serve without the cash.

In days gone by a few have pushed until their feet would slip, but the rest of us have stood around, like chickens with the pip.

When the next big push gets under way, Oh, wouldn't it be grand, if all the able-bodied folks would push, and the rest would throw on sand? (not mud, you Gazoos, sand.) Do you get me?

Say, writing that kind of dope is easy. It only took me three hours to think that up. I sure would hate to be a newspaperman.

Selling auto tires, etc., is more in my line. Need any? We have repair parts for Fords.

Yours truly, JACK.

"If it hadn't been for what other people said about Tanlac I might be suffering yet, and nobody need fear troubles like I had as long as Tanlac is made," said H. A. Morrison, local manager for White Sewing Machine Co., Dallas, Tex., and living at 3517 Brown street, that city. "I suffered from a long-standing and stubborn case of stomach trouble," he continued. "My stomach was nearly always full of gas that gave me no end of misery and I had to quit eating most everything but broth and other light diet. I had such an awful pain in my right side that I couldn't stand up straight and sometimes I would almost double up in agony. I had terrible headaches, my sleep was so broken it didn't do me any good and I felt tired and worn out all the time. I read of a man in Tennessee who had gotten relief from the same trouble as mine by taking Tanlac, so I decided to try it. Before I had finished my first bottle I began to feel better and a few more made me feel like a different man. I get as hungry as a bear at meal times, eat anything I want and nothing hurts me at all. I sleep as sound as a log and get up full of energy. I have already earned eight dollars and my work is a real pleasure to me now."

FLAG STONE BREAKS; TWO PEOPLE INJURED

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tice Receive
Minor Injuries when Flag Stone
Breaks in West State Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tice of 357 West Lafayette avenue received minor injuries and were severely shaken up when a flag stone broke in front of Gillham's undertaking parlors Saturday night precipitating them into the coal hole beneath.

Mr. Tice received a cut in the back of the head which bled profusely. Mrs. Tice struck her breast on the edge of the flagging as she fell and suffered great pain. She also suffered from shock. They were taken to their home by Arthur Vannier in his truck and Dr. Woltman summoned who gave the necessary surgical attention. Unless Mrs. Tice has internal injuries no serious results will follow.

Arthur Tice recently came to this city from St. Sterling with his family and is in the employ of the Jacksonville Creamery company. Saturday night in company with his wife he had been down town trading and was returning home about 10:30 o'clock.

They were walking along the north side of West State street and when they stepped on one of the stone flaggings in front of the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gillham it broke without warning and they were precipitated into the aperture under the walk used for the storage of coal.

W. W. Gillham was standing in front of the Journal office talking with W. H. DeShara the Journal's Press operator, and Patrolman Arisman and Clark. They saw the couple suddenly disappear and hurried across the street. Mrs. Tice was rescued by Patrolman Arisman and Albert Woodman and W. H. DeShara assisted Mr. Tice.

One section of the stone fell to the bottom of the coal hole but fortunately the smaller piece did not fall clean into the hole else both Mr. and Mrs. Tice might have been killed or seriously injured.

When Mrs. Tice fell she lost her purse which she was carrying in her hand. The purse contained several dollars—currency. She missed the purse after returning home and police headquarters was notified and Capt. Sharpe went to the scene of the accident, found the purse and returned it to Mrs. Tice.

If the world put up a screen and said to me, "Now prove that the moving picture is worthy of the support we have given it," one of the productions I would show there to prove my point would be "THE SILVER KING."

BEFORE OR AFTER INFLUENZA

By Dr. M. Cook
The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: a Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body, and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels, such as Castor Oil or a pill made up of Mayapple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, to be had at any drug store and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Ironie" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

For a tonic that will freshen up the blood, clean the digestive tract and put new force and vim into you, I know of nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and it contains no alcohol or narcotic so is perfectly safe to take.

Joliet, Ill.—"For some time I suffered greatly from gastric stomach trouble and anything I would eat did not seem to digest; gas would form and distress me so I was afraid to eat. I suffered so I doctored and took medicine without relief and was just miserable. I was advised to take the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the first few doses gave me relief and by the time I had taken one bottle I was completely cured. I can now eat anything I wish without being distressed."—Mrs. Leroy Johnson, 506 Wilson St., adv.

RED CROSS SHOWS CLOTHING NEEDS

Circular Issued Explains Conditions Overseas—Miss Fairbank Will Direct Local Work.

Under the direction of the American Red Cross a special drive will be made for the collection of used clothing for liberated countries. Miss Maria Fairbank is the chairman of the committee here and Miss Fairbank requests the president of the Ladies Aid societies of the various churches to meet at the Red Cross room at the public library Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The purpose is to make the necessary arrangements for the drive. The goods will be received at headquarters which will be announced later. The work in connection with the garments will be done at the Red Cross rooms at the library. The general facts about the plan, together with the lists of garments desired, are found in a circular issued by the Red Cross.

Plan.
The plan which will be followed is the one which has been so successful in the collection of clothing for Belgium. On previous occasions, the Red Cross has been responsible only for the collection of clothing and the delivery of the packed goods to the railroads. In this campaign the Red Cross will assume entire charge of the operations from the time of collection to the time when the baled clothing is delivered to the ships of the European Relief Administration which will transport it to Europe. The distribution of this clothing in Europe will be entirely under American supervision. The ARC Commissions will supervise it in those countries where they are at work and in those places where we have no organization. Mr. Hoover has offered to have his food representatives take charge of the distribution. Thus the responsibility for the campaign will be on the Red Cross from the time of the collection of the clothing to the time of its ultimate distribution in Europe.

Date.
The campaign will be held in the week of March 17th to the 31st, 1919.

Allotment.
The minimum quota for the Central Division is 1,500 tons, based on the minimum for the entire country of 10,000 tons. A minimum quota has also been assigned to each chapter.

Organization.
It is believed that organization is the keystone of the success of this campaign. People in general are only too glad to contribute their discarded clothing, if they are asked to do so and understand the need. Therefore, the problem of collecting this clothing becomes one of organizing an active committee of workers in each chapter.

Publicity.
It is realized that it is very important to furnish a strong background of publicity in order to make this campaign successful. A preliminary news story will be released within a day or two and from time to time National Headquarters will furnish the various news associations with stories indicating the need for this relief. Photographs showing the need abroad have been called for and these will be distributed through the photographic services which supply the newspapers. A motion picture trailer will be distributed through the weekly file or changes. The co-operation of the trade papers and associations in the dry goods and shoe trades have been obtained and they will establish articles and advertisements, emphasizing the importance of the campaign.

Co-operation of Foreign Nationalities.

The nationals of the liberated countries who live in different parts of the United States are anxious to collect useful articles of clothing for shipment to the countries in which they were born. In some instances they have offered to make a collection and turn the material over to the Red Cross for transportation and distribution. In others there has been a tendency to organize collections for shipment independently of the Red Cross. Unquestionably the assistance of these people will be most useful in the collection of a large amount of material. In some districts there are large colonies of various nationalities which have already organized as auxiliaries of the Red Cross or as independent relief societies. Where there are such groups they may request the designation of certain shipments for a particular country. At one time it seemed possible to carry out their desires, but it is now found that it is impractical for the following reasons to undertake the handling of articles designated for certain countries: All clothing will be shipped abroad on the food ships of the European Relief Administration. Each food ship will carry a certain amount of clothing so that the clothing will be distributed in the same proportions as is the food. When a ship leaves this country it is under orders to report to Gibraltar or Falmouth for further orders, from which port it may be diverted to Trieste, Saloniki, Antwerp, etc. As we cannot tell when a ship leaves, what her ultimate destination is, it is impossible for the Red Cross to accept articles to be sent to a given country. Every group of people who are particularly interested in a given country can be assured that a large amount of clothing will be sent to their country, but under the existing conditions they will understand that it is quite impossible to handle designated shipments. It is a foregone conclusion that by enlisting all of the Red Cross Chapters in this collection, a very large amount of clothing will be secured for each individual country than if the collection were undertaken by the nationals of these countries alone, who live in the United States.

The Kind of Garments Needed.
Every kind of garment, for all ages and both sexes, is urgently needed. In addition, piece goods, light, warm, cotton, flannel, and other kinds of cloth from which to make garments for new born babies, ticking, sheetings, and blankets, woolen goods of any kind—and shoes of every size are asked for. Scrap leather is needed for repairing footwear.

Since the clothes will be subjected to the hardest kind of wear only garments of strong and durable materials should be sent. It is useless to offer to any afflicted population garments of flimsy material. Make the gifts practical. Garments need not be in perfect condition. Many thousands of destitute women in the occupied regions are eager to earn a small livelihood by repairing gift clothing and making new garments adapted to the needs with which they are familiar.

Garments Needed.
(This list is merely suggestive.)
Men's wear—Shirts (preferably of light colored flannels), undershirts, overcoats, jerseys, underdrawers, trousers, coats, sweaters, sweaters, work suits, suits, shoes, socks.

Women's wear—Skirts, drawers, corset slips, cloth hats, petticoats, blouses, shirts, knitted caps, coats, suits (2 piece), shoes, stockings.

Boys' Wear—(Shirts, union suits, undershirts, coats, suits, trousers, shoes, overalls, jerseys, socks, stockings, sweaters.

Girls' Wear—Dresses, skirts, overcoats, night dresses, drawers, stockings, undergarments, petticoats, suits, blouses, waists, shoes.

Boys and Girls' Wear—Hooded caps, pinafores, woolen union suits.

Infants' Wear—Baby blankets, baby shirts, sweaters, bonnets, socks, bibs, diapers, shoes, binders, booties, baby dresses, cloaks, jackets, shawls.

Miscellaneous—Bed ticks, blankets, bed sheets, mufflers, pillow cases.

Woolen goods of any kind whatsoever are acceptable; soft hats and caps for all ages and sweaters of any kind and size.

Men's shirts and pajamas, so worn or shrunken as no longer to be serviceable, are particularly welcome, since the material can be utilized for making children's garments.

Location of headquarters will be given later.

A PLEASANT INCIDENT

All Christendom was pleased by the reverent manner in which the great General Allenby treated places and objects in Palestine and especially by the fact that he walked into Jerusalem deeming it proper that he should thus show his respect for a place revered by all believers in the Bible. It was truly impressive when a major general of an army thus entered a place and showed how sincere and truly humble in the presence of scenes made memorable by the presence of the Redeemer of the world a great man may be.

A resident of Jacksonville and veteran of the civil war wrote the great man a few weeks ago telling him how much he, in company with millions more, appreciated and admired such conduct on the part of a great man. The writer had little thought that the letter would be more than merely noticed when handed the general by his aide, when to his great surprise and gratification he received a day or two since an autograph letter from the general. It read:

Feb. 12, 1919.
Headquarters Egyptian
Expeditionary Force

Dear Sir:
I think you for your letter of 2nd January and for the kind words of appreciation.

Yours faithfully,
Edward M. Allenby, General.

It is needless to add that the letter will be treasured by the recipient for many years to come.

A Coal Miner Thinks There is No Remedy Like Vinol.

Belleville, Ill.—"I am a coal miner. I doctored for months for a chronic case of bronchitis with a terrible cough, sore chest, throat and lungs, so I could not work. I could get no relief until I tried Vinol. It stopped my cough and built up my strength and I feel better in every way."

Andrew J. Gray.

It is the healing, tissue building properties of fresh cods liver aided by the strengthening blood building elements of tonics, contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in overcoming chronic cough, colds, and bronchitis.

The new plant will be modernly equipped and run in a sanitary manner through expert bread and pastry bakers being employed. One of the features to be installed will be a modern rotary oven which will be placed in one of the windows, enabling passersby to watch the process of bread baking, from the dough to the finished loaf.

MANY DISTINCTIONS AS FIGHTING UNIT

33rd Division Has Made Great Record in Overseas Service—Jacksonville Young Men Active in the Fighting.

Sergt. John G. Capos, who is with the 33rd division M. P. company of the American forces abroad, in a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. C. C. Capos, written under date of Feb. 19, indicates that the members of the company hope to return home about the first or middle of April. A number of Jacksonville young men are members of this company and it is interesting to note in this connection that the late Sergt. Hughes, whose death on board a transport has recently been noted, was also one of the company.

Sergt. Capos wrote that their colonel had told them that about March 1st they would be moved to Coblenz, stay there for a month then move on to Rotterdam, expecting to sail for home about the first or 15th of April. In Sergt. Capos' letter was enclosed a clipping from the Stars and Stripes. The company referred to in the article as forming a guard of honor was the 33rd military police. Reference was also made to Chipilly Ridge and Sergt. Capos made the notation that it was there Lieut. Harrison Dickson lost his life. The facts from the newspaper clipping are given below:

Great Fighting Record.
The 33rd division which is to give its musical comedy "Liberty Bells" at the Theatre Albert 1 on Monday night is distinguished for more important things than its ability to give an entertaining show. It has been one of the greatest fighting divisions in the American army in France. Its record for prompt movement and vigorous action is one of which any organization might be proud.

"Formed with Illinois National Guard elements as a nucleus, it trained at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, and when the orders to go to France arrived its 65th infantry brigade moved with such speed that it was in France sixteen days after leaving Texas.

"The division got into the fighting on the British front soon after arriving. The first battle of importance was that of Hamel July 4, where it fought alongside of British and Australians. An Australian colonel started to make a formal speech of thanks to the 33rd but broke off into the vernacular and said: 'Yanks, you're fighting fools, but I am for you. You'll do me. Digger, but you cars are a bit rough.'

Decorated By King.
"It was the first American division to be decorated by the King of England, who, on August 12 decorated 19 officers and men who had taken part in the Hamel battle. It held place for some time as the guard of honor.

"On August 9, the 131st infantry of the 65th brigade captured Gressaire Wood and Chipilly Ridge. Then the division was sent to Verdun where it was in the trenches for forty-four days. It participated in the great attack of the First American army on September 26 and captured the Bois des Forges. It fought continuously and with distinction from that day till Oct. 8 when it was transferred to the Meuse sector and did more good work. Later it was transferred to the Troyon sector near St. Mihiel where it remained till the conclusion of hostilities.

"The 33rd claims the honor of being the only American division which has fought with British, French and Americans. It has formed a part of five armies and eleven army corps. It has been a part of the army of occupation and is now winding in Luxembourg.

JULIAN WELLS DIES IN ARMY SERVICE

Earlier Report of Death of Scott County Soldier Is Confirmed—News Notes.

Winchester, March 15.—George W. Prindle arrived Friday from White Hall to visit at the home of Dr. W. B. Waters and family. He has lately returned from France. He was there one year in the service of the heavy artillery.

It was rumored several weeks ago that Julian Wells, son of Mr. W. D. Wells, living east of town, had been killed in France. Mr. Wells did not receive any official news until recently that the sad news is correct. He has not received particulars in regard to his son's death. The young soldier attended the school at Point Pleasant near his home and later was a student at the Winchester schools. Later for four years he was a student at Illinois college. He had been located in Idaho for some time and held a responsible position there. He was a young man of fine character and had many friends who will regret to know of his death. Mr. Wells and family have the very great sympathy of their many friends in this hour of sadness.

SPECIAL REVENUE MAN TO REMAIN

Yesterday was the last day for filing income tax returns, according to original notice of the department, and J. B. Sicking, special agent, and E. I. Whitlock, local representative, were in their offices until midnight. Mr. Sicking at night moved down from the county court rooms to the main corridor of the court house in order to be accessible and Mr. Whitlock had his desk and blanks placed near the entrance of the Ayers National bank building.

A great many people took final opportunity for filling out their blanks. In the afternoon Mr. Sicking was very much surprised to receive from Revenue Collector Pickering of Springfield direction to remain in Jacksonville until further notice. Mr. Pickering's letter of instruction said: "You will please continue the work in Jacksonville until further notice. It is thought that there are still a very large number of tax payers who have not yet filed their returns." It is evidently therefore the intention of the department to give citizens who are subject to the tax a further opportunity to file their returns.

MR. PINKERTON WRITES FROM TEXAS

Henry Pinkerton, who is now engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Ellington Field, Texas, has written Andre & Andre that he is in excellent health and finds the work in the southern state very congenial. His letter states that he has recently been transferred from San Antonio to Ellington field, which is about half way between Houston and the coast. This field, which is the largest one in the United States, is to be made a permanent camp. Mr. Pinkerton says that there is now an excellent prospect for a plentiful harvest in Texas this year, as there has been a plentiful rainfall all during the winter season.

SOME TREES SUGGESTED FOR NICHOLS PARK.

Some time ago "Nichols Park" Board stated thru our local press that many of the worthless trees in the park would be destroyed and other kinds of trees notably the tulip, would be planted in their stead. This is certainly commendable for the popular is a worthless tree having neither beauty or other value. The tulip tree ("Liriodendron") so called because the blooms, which appear fragrant and are a delicate combination of green, yellow, cream and orange, have the shape of a tulip bloom.

This tree is allied to the magnolia family and under favorable conditions, grows to a height of 150 feet, or more, and has large fiddle shaped, glossy leaves, the trunk being in most cases as straight as a spar and the bark smooth and mottled. The tulip is a grand tree for avenue, park, or lawn planting. Altho so desirable they can be bought in 6 to 8 feet size, in a wholesale way for about 45c. There are, however, so many beautiful and desirable trees that the writer suggests that not too overpowering a proportion of any one variety be planted. Perhaps the most beautiful trees are the birches, the cut leaved weeping variety being especially attractive. One of the poets calls the birch "the lady of the woods."

Those of us who have been in the Michigan and other northern woods, will never forget the charm and beauty of the birches. In groups of three or more, as Mother Nature often has them, they are especially effective. In the station grounds of the G. R. & T. R. R. at Petoskey, Mich., several years ago the writer saw nine large specimen shaped trees of the cut leaved weeping variety, which are the finest of any the writer has ever seen. The birches are, inexpensive, costing in a wholesale way, for fair sized trees about 50c. The magnolias, named for Pierre Magnol, a Frenchman, are doubtless the finest of our flowering trees. They have spongy roots and should like the birches, (which have a thin bark) be transplanted in the spring-time only. In our native magnolias we have the "grandiflora," of the south (not hardy here), the Glanca, or Sweet Bay, the "Macrophylla" (or large leaved) and the "Acuminata" (or cucumber magnolia, so called because the resemblance of seed pod to a small cucumber) which is a rapid growing pyramidal tree reaching a height of 60 to 90 feet and having large creamy white flowers.

This is a fine avenue tree. There used to be one of this variety (and perhaps still is) on the east side of the yard of the late Mr. I. L. Morrison on Grove street. The Chinese Magnolias are very beautiful, the blooms coming before the foliage. The most popular members of this interesting section are "Conspicua" (pure white), "Lennea" (dark purple), "Speciosa," "Soulangeana," "Norbetteria" (the last three all having pink-white and lavender colored blooms) "Stellata" (star-like) being a semi-double and more of a shrub than tree. This is the earliest blooming of the Chinese section. Sontagana is the most popular variety as it is somewhat hardier and altho Speciosa blooms a few days earlier (about April 12) and holds its flowers a longer time. The Chinese Magnolias grow about 20 feet high and bloom from about April 10 to April 25 and as the blooms fall the leaves appear.

These varieties should be bought "balled" as they are more certain to live. Are rather expensive costing about two dollars. The bloom buds of the Chinese Magnolias are formed in September. Our native Dogwood (Cornus Florida) is a rather small tree but beautiful in foliage and bloom, the leaves in the fall being gorgeous in their coloring. It is a very inexpensive tree. In the southern Illinois bottom lands it grows by the thousands. Like the Magnolias it forms its "buds" or bloom buds in September. There are many varieties of the Dogwood (Cornus) shrubs, which are extensively used in landscape work. The beech ("Fagus") is a tall growing hardy tree with handsome foliage and is free from insects and fungi. The ash ("Fraxinus") and the Larch ("Larix") are both good, particularly the latter.

The sweet gum ("Liquid amber Styraciflua") altho but little known in this locality, is an exceedingly attractive tree attaining a height of 60 to 140 feet. It has star shaped green leaves which turn in the autumn to an intense crimson scarlet. The corky bark and the swinging seed balls give it ornamental value in winter. Meehan & Son of Philadelphia recommend this tree very highly for street and park planting. Our native Red bud ("Cercis") sometimes called the "Judas" tree (because of a tradition that Judas hung himself on one of these trees after his betrayal of Christ.) is a very beautiful small native tree with heart shaped leaves. It grows by the thousands on the river bluffs, especially. It is a very low priced tree. Among the smaller trees are flowering Peach, Almond Plum, Cherry and Crabs.

The Bechtel Double flowered wild crab is very desirable for both flowers or perfume, as are other members of the crab ("Pyrae") family. Among the better known trees are the many varieties of Maple, Oak, Elm and our native Hackberry, which is too little appreciated. The oriental plan grows about 80 feet high and resembles somewhat our native Sycamore, to which it is much superior, however this tree is entirely free from attacks of insects and fungous diseases and is not affected by the smoke which kills or stunts so many trees in the cities, and it is, therefore, a very desirable tree for street planting. The writer suggests the planting of some or all of the above.

Shaw's Garden, in St. Louis, is supposed to have all varieties of trees and shrubs which can be grown in that climate, labeled by a small name plate of board which teaches the public to identify and learn easily the different varieties of trees and plants thus creating a lively interest in the beauty in nature. We have a beautiful park which we should appreciate more than we perhaps do.

GAVE MASQUERADE SOCIAL
The teachers and pupils of the Litterberry school gave a masquerade social at the school house Saturday evening, which was well attended and resulted in a goodly sum which will be turned over to the Red Cross. A fine of 10c was the penalty for attending without a mask, and the sum which was obtained in this way was augmented by the sale of refreshments. A musical program was given during the evening which was much enjoyed, several selections being rendered by Mrs. Durrell Crum on the piano and Oliver Lindsay played some violin numbers. The teachers of the Litterberry school are Miss Ruth Mellor and Miss Margaret Chapman.

YOU have spent your money for a car and the tires are its weakest part.

YOU well know with the use of air the tires are never worn out, and many of them go to the junk pile from a blowout or rimcut long before the tread is worn out. These two things alone cause you to lose 50 to 75 per cent of the actual mileage that you should get out of the tires.

SO DON'T lose any more time or money on the air system. DON'T trust to luck when you can trust to NATIONAL RUBBER TIRE FILLER, the perfect substitute for air, and ride in a care-free confidence, free from that ever present nerve-racking dread of tire trouble.

JOHN T. SWAIN DIED AT COUNTRY HOME

Death of Well Known Citizen Followed an Attack of Flu.

The death of John T. Swain occurred at about 5:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon at his late home near the Berea church, after an illness of several days from a complication of diseases following an attack of influenza. The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swain of the Berea neighborhood, and was born Nov. 6, 1889, on the farm where his entire life was spent and where his death occurred. He attended the Berea school and afterward was a student at Brown's Business college this city.

On August 30, 1911, the deceased was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Frances Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Foster. To this union were born three children, Emma Mary, aged six years; Kenneth Foster, aged four years; and John William, aged two years, all of whom survive. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swain, and three sisters: Misses Helen and Nellie Swain living at home. One sister, Ethel Swain, preceded him in death a number of years since.

At an early age the deceased united with the Berea church and during the after years was an active worker in the various organizations of the church. He was upright in all his dealings and was known as a man of absolute honesty and high ideals. He will be greatly missed in his home community and the bereaved family will have the sincere sympathy of all at this time of deep sorrow.

The funeral services will be held at Berea cemetery at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in charge of Rev. C. G. Cantrell of Chapin, a former pastor of the Berea church.

HENRY RICKS IS HOME FROM FOREIGN SERVICE

Henry Ricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ricks, arrived home Saturday morning after eighteen months in France. Mr. Ricks was a member of the Marines and was two months on the battle front in France.

During his service he saw some hard fighting and was wounded and gassed. He spent some time in the hospitals. He sailed from St. Nazaire and arrived in the United States on February 2. The young soldier is looking fine and was being given a warm greeting by his many friends Saturday and it is needless to say that his parents were overjoyed to have him again with them. While in the A. E. F. Mr. Ricks sent many interesting letters home, some of which were published in the Journal. He enjoyed his experiences in the Marines, service, the some of it was hard in the extreme.

If the world put up a screen and said to me, "Now prove that the moving picture is worthy of the support we have given it," one of the productions I would show there to prove my point would be "THE SILVER KING."

CIRCUIT COURT IS ADJOURNED FOR TERM

Judge E. S. Smith Here Saturday to Enter Orders—Red Hare Sentenced to Chester.

Judge E. S. Smith was in the city Saturday afternoon to hear motions in the Morgan county circuit court. Judge Smith after completing the work of the afternoon, adjourned the February term. "Red" Hare, who was convicted at the November term of a charge of larceny and subsequently made his escape, later being apprehended and appearing before the court and was given an indeterminate sentence at Chester penitentiary.

The other most interesting case before the court was in the matter of Walter Haxton. Motion was made by State's Attorney Robinson asking that the defendant show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court. A rule was entered requiring the defendant to make answer by April 15. It is the charge of the state's attorney that Haxton is violating a previous order of the court with reference to the sale of liquor. Orders were entered as follows:

In the proceedings of the Farmers State Bank & Trust Co., vs. Anna Hembrough, et al., the petition was approved and the report of the trustee approved and order of discharge entered.

In the partition proceedings of Lena Johnson vs. Bert Gorham, the decree of sale was approved and order of distribution entered.

In the suit of J. C. Andrus vs. Susan M. Warren, bill to foreclose vendor's lien, master's report of sale was approved and distribution ordered and cause stricken.

In the suit of Sadie F. Goveia, vs. Daniel Goveia, for separate maintenance, motion was made by the complainant to modify the alimony order.

In the divorce proceedings of Lora Menezes vs. Frank Menezes the cause was continued with alias writ.

In the partition proceedings of Mary E. Plank et al. vs. Ida G. Wells, et al., master's report was approved and final distribution ordered.

In the foreclosure of A. W. Bambrook vs. A. W. Kellogg, et al., the master's report of sale was approved and cause stricken.

In the ex parte partition of J. B. Beekman and R. S. Wood as trustees of the estate of James Wood, the resignation of J. B. Beekman was approved and John J. Reeve named as trustee in his stead.

THE CAMP AT BREST.

Morrison Worthington has written his father of the experiences of two of his friends at Brest. As this is a subject of general interest at present, we are permitted to quote his language, which is as follows: "Last night I had quite a busy time. Helen (his cousin) and Mrs. Glendenning had me down there for dinner. After dinner Mr. Glendenning came in. He is just out of the service—a sergeant major in the heavy artillery. He had a lot to say about the camp at Brest. He spoke especially bitterly about the discipline and the unfair way they were treated. The hardships were awful, but his outfit were just back from the front and in such good condition that it did not hurt them any. He said they would have been much more comfortable if they had been turned loose in an open field and allowed to look out for themselves. If that had been done they would have been all right. Officers and men suffered alike. One of the fellows in my class was an officer there and tells the same story. Mr. Glendenning says that mere incompetence could not have devised so many ways to break the spirit of the men."

If the world put up a screen and said to me, "Now prove that the moving picture is worthy of the support we have given it," one of the productions I would show there to prove my point would be "THE SILVER KING."

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The best proof of the popularity of Paige Cars is the shortage of Paige Cars. We mean that literally—a shortage of New Paiges and Used Paiges.

We have never had enough Paige Sixes—either the New Series five passenger Linwood or the New Series seven passenger Essex—to satisfy the world wide demand. That shortage today is more acute than ever.

The explanation for that lies fairly and squarely in Paige worth. Paige owners find that Paige Quality pays in Economy and Long Service precisely as Paige Beauty pays in Satisfaction. Low up-keep, absence of repair bills, continuous running, are the foundation upon which Paige Supremacy has been built.

Overland "Ninety"

Where every farm is the home of an automobile you have a prosperous community.

And in such communities the name Overland has come to mean a very definite thing—ruling sensible automobile value.

To make this definite meaning of the Overland name ever more clearly apparent has become our greatest obligation.

This season the Model 99 Overland Thrift Car, true to Overland tradition, fulfills this obligation.

It stands today, on its name and record, the ruling sensible automobile value of the hour.

This is the judgment of over one hundred thousand purchasers of this model.

It will be your judgment if you sift all the fact for the final truth.

If you intend purchasing a car this season see the Overland dealer now—the demand will probably exceed the possible supply for some time to come.

JUNIOR-SENIOR ANNUAL RECEPTION

ALL CHILDREN LOVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give It When Feverish, Cross, Bilious, for Bad Breath or Sour Stomach.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—[adv.]

Richard, have returned to their home in Winchester after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodall.

Mrs. Margaret Kincaid of Roodhouse visited with her sister Mrs. C. S. Heaton the first of the week.

Mrs. S. A. Wilson is visiting relatives in Waverly.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Rochester and little son moved to Roodhouse Thursday. Mr. Rochester has a position with the Chicago & Alton Railroad Company.

Mrs. Jennie Kelley of White Hall is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Sloan.

MAVERICKS

We noticed a headline last week which read, "Carranza agrees with the United States authorities." Carranza must be reforming as this is the first time we have known of him to agree with anybody.

If so much publicity were not given to Bolsheviki and I. W. W. movements by the newspapers we imagine it would have a dampening effect on the activities of these anarchistic organizations.

Because Mrs. Betty Inch of New York City was too generous in the display of her ankles in court the judge ordered a fence built around the jury box. From which we would judge that figuratively speaking Mrs. Inch when given an opportunity showed two feet instead of the proverbial inch.

President Wilson evidently had not received word from White Hall in Congressman Rainey's own county when he made the statement that a large majority of citizens of the country were in favor of a league of nations.

Dispatches tell us that Germany objects to the peace terms. No one had any idea, however, that they would be very pleasing to Germany.

It seems that the principal occupation of the Bolsheviki in Russia is killing all who do not belong to the cult or whatever it may be called. This leads us to wonder if they won't begin killing each other when they run out of material outside of the organization. That would indeed be a blessing in disguise.

A large number of people thought the voice of the people was the voice of God speaking four years ago but they received a rude awakening.

Some of the defeated candidates were able to arise Wednesday morning and with great optimism say "It never touched me."

The managers of Mr. Crabtree's campaign must not get the idea from the recent primary that there are no democrats in Jacksonville. We have at times seen them as thick as the proverbial fleas.

A Chinese puzzle has nothing on the income tax. Blanks which some of our citizens had to fill out the past week.

Which leads us to remark that after all there is some advantage in being poor.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald, 25 N. Main St., West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other women may benefit from her derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Sermon manuscripts and other private papers of the late Rev. W. H. Milburn, D. D., were presented to the College on Tuesday of this week by his nephew, Oliver I. Milburn. Dr. Milburn was the first financial secretary of the College, was during his career Chaplain of the House of Representatives and later Chaplain of the Senate of the United States. The collection of papers included three English letters sent in appreciation of a notable prayer offered in the United States Senate in behalf of continued good will between the United States and England, and a beautiful tribute to Queen Victoria. The manuscripts reveal a clear grasp of spiritual truth coupled with a logical development of the same. The Junior Class with its colors of yellow and white took the stage at the Tuesday chapel. By means of songs and cheers they explained to the other classes that the Class of 1920 was outdistanced by none. The Junior song proved to be such a catchy affair that even the Seniors consented to hum it during the week, and the aspiring Freshmen and Sophomores sang it as they went from class to class. The Junior dinner party Tuesday evening was enlivened by songs and cheers which were responded to by the other classes.

Lieutenant Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church, delivered a helpful message entitled "Successful Womanhood" at the Wednesday chapel. The address indicated keen study of contemporary American life and sympathetic attention to military life. Altho this was his first address before the students, he found himself in an atmosphere of genuine welcome as his ideals of life were in perfect accord with those which have been enunciated during all the history of the college. It was evident that those privileged to wear the colors were enjoying themselves and the college classes were happy to share their pleasure.

Little Miss Frances Pauline Winey was the guest of Miss Veriel Black at Thursday dinner. Some one remarked that the presence of this beautiful child had the same effect as that of beautiful flowers at dinner.

The presence at the Friday chapel of Superintendent R. W. Woolston, Mr. Hugh Sutherland, Miss Jennie Pasidurack, and Miss Rebecca Scheibel afforded inspiration and inspiration, as well as entertainment.

Mr. Woolston outlined in a graphic manner the work of the School for the Blind and urged continued interest by the faculty and students of Illinois Woman's College in this important work. Mr. Sutherland read from a Braille manuscript and Miss Pasidurack beautifully sang two numbers.

Misses Mabel Weiss, Grace Harris and Anne Rotruck left Friday for Bloomington to attend the Student Volunteer Convention. Miss Vera Wardner is in Chicago attending the convention of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Olmsted, secretary of the National Board of Public Health Nurses, gave a resume of her trip from America to Roumania at the Saturday chapel. Her tour was by way of a beautiful island in Japan, where all shoppers and worshippers took off their shoes before entering stores or temples, Siberia, where the immense wheat fields surpass description, Russia, where the men wait in idleness for justice and the women perform heavy manual labor; Roumania, where the children were the children were naked and striving; Lapland, where the private citizen was dressed in richest furs, and then to England, "a real country." The challenge presented by Miss Olmsted was to make Morgan county an experiment station for the preservation of child life. England is manifesting this work and will be able to display to the world strong, virile manhood as a result. Morgan County has an opportunity to set the pace for the world in physical development.

Miss Jeannette Powell went to Franklin Thursday to read that evening, returning on Friday to read at the South Side Circle meeting at the home of Mrs. Ethie.

Two of the girls from the Extension Department, Misses Remley and Keys gave patriotic readings at the high school on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Remley will repeat her reading of "The Perfect Tribute" at Grace M. E. church Sunday evening.

The dramatic club held an initiation meeting on Thursday evening and after the social hour, in which the new members demonstrated their fitness to uphold the dramatic ability of the club by the production of two clever skits. After the welcome to the new players, refreshments were served and enthusiastic plans discussed. The delightful out-of-door comedy by Rostard, is somewhat variable due to weather conditions and the advancement of the season. Announcement will be made later.

Stop Coughing!

The simplest and best way to stop coughing is to take

FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR

It's you get the curative influence of the pine tar and other healing ingredients, together with the mollifying laxative effect of the honey. It puts a soothing coating on the inflamed tickling throat, allays bronchial irritation, raises phlegm easily, stops hard wearing coughs and nervous hacking.

W. S. Bailey, Lancaster, Ky., writes: "My wife contracted a severe cold, which developed into a bronchial trouble, and she coughed almost continually. One-half bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar slackened up her cough and she rested much better at night. She continued its use until it effected a cure."

THE PRUNING AND PROPER CARE OF AN ORCHARD.

(Read at Meeting of State Farm Managers.)

I was much surprised when I received the program and found that I was expected to talk to you who are heads of the various departments of the State Farms. I am sure if this subject were handled properly, much would be said that would be profitable for each of us to hear, and each of us who have anything to do with the orchards on the State Farms could go back to work more intelligently for having heard it. But I fear I shall be able to bring you but little because of the little experience I have had.

No doubt pruning is seriously neglected, not only on the farms owned by the State but on farms controlled by individuals. This is true also of the other factors that constitute the proper care of an orchard. This neglect, I think, is generally due to one of two things—indolence or ignorance. And I have not been able to find a single reason for setting trees if one intends to just let the law of the survival of the fittest have full sway.

I have noticed that in several of the various fields of agriculture there are four principal things to be looked for.

To grow a crop of corn we must have a good seed-bed, good seed, sufficient fertility, and proper cultivation.

To grow alkaline reaction, a properly prepared seedbed, pure seed of strong germination, and inoculation.

In the production of milk of "quality" we consider food-value, healthfulness, cleanliness, and keeping qualities.

And gentlemen, if an orchard is to be profitable it must be properly pruned, sprayed, fertilized and cultivated.

I am not sure but that we should emphasize the importance of fertility and cultivation for some people think an orchard will be profitable on land that is too poor to produce healthy weeds, judging from the place they have set their trees, and as for cultivation, that is for corn.

But let us notice briefly the four points in the order I have set them down.

I think pruning should begin when the tree is set, and intelligently kept up as long as the tree is bearing profitably. And when the tree is no longer profitable it should be cut down so it may not be a source of infection to other trees that have escaped the causes of its decline. In pruning we should burn the limbs as soon as convenient and surely we should have them burned before we spray. I had as soon have a diseased limb on the tree and have it sprayed as to have it on the ground and not have it sprayed. The bark-beetles prefer such wood in which to breed and besides this an orchard is an eye-sore in which can be found dead limbs and decaying brush. But an orchard properly kept is surely a thing of beauty and is always a center of interest, especially in the fruiting season. To lay down any specific rules for pruning would be difficult because some prefer a low topped tree and some do not. But whatever our idea may be I think we should have it clearly fixed in our minds at the time of setting and stick to it. I also believe our severest cutting should be done the first ten years. All crossed limbs and dead wood should be kept cut out. And do not cut the limbs off so there are steps left for climbing. They are sure to die and decay. Cut as nearly straight with the limb that is left as you can and not leave too large a wound. Any cut more than an inch or an inch and a quarter in diameter should be painted. This will aid in resisting attacks by fungi until nature can heal the wound.

Mr. Hobbit wrote me he would like for me to come prepared to give a "short" talk on this subject. I must cover the ground as rapidly as possible. The schedule for spraying will depend on the kind of orchard you are caring for.

The University recommends seven sprays for apples, four for pears, peaches, plums, and cherries, besides additional sprays.

Do not understand me to say it is necessary to spray this often every year. The important sprays for apples are the Dormant Spray, the Cluster-bud, the Calyx and the spray three weeks after the fall of the petals.

This is the schedule for pear spraying also.

In the Dormant tree Spray 5 1/2 gallons of commercial Lime Sulphur is used to each 60 gallons of spray. For the other sprays 1 1/4 gallons of Lime Sulphur and two pounds of paste or one pound of powdered arsenate of lead should be used. If an orchard is known to be infested with aphids or lice the dormant spray tip-green and nicotine sulphate may be added at the rate of one gallon to 1,000 gallons of spray. 1-20 gal. to 50 gal. of spray.

In case of a second brood of codling moths spray consisting of two pounds of freshly slaked lime and two pounds of paste or one pound of powdered arsenate of lead should be applied ten weeks after the fall of the petal. This may also aid in the control of curculion, sooty blotch, fly speck, and leaf spot.

The dormant spray for peaches, plums, and cherries are the same as for apples and pears. The first and second Summer sprays of plums and cherries correspond to the clusterbud and the calyx sprays of apples and pears. One thing is to be remembered—commercial lime-sulphur is not used on peach trees after the buds are out.

For further information on spraying I suggest that any of you who are interested write the University and ask for Circular No. 212. Also much may be gained by a careful study of Farmers Bulletin No. 908. This may be had by writing the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

San Jose scale is perhaps the worst pest orchardists have to contend with. Farmers Bulletin No. 950 deals with its control.

Two more things—Fertility and Cultivation. Land that is too poor to produce twenty or twenty-five bushels of corn will not produce a bumper crop of apples. The supply of organic matter in soil may be kept up by growing legumes, mowing them down and plowing them under in the fall. Perhaps alfalfa or sweet clover would be best for this end of the two I would prefer sweet clover. (Melilotus Alba.) This is a biennial and could be cut so as to keep it from seeding and plowed under every two years. If orchards were plowed every other fall I am confident they would not become so badly infested with insects, because it is well known many insects hibernate in the ground. Cow-peas are recommended also.

Young orchards and orchards in which some trees have died might profitably be planted in truck crops, potatoes or sweet corn to help pay the expense of cultivation, but generally speaking we should consider the orchard the main crop so long as we let it stand and if it will not pay expenses cut down so the land can be farmed as it should be farmed. But I believe orchards will pay if they are cared for with the same interest and the same degree of intelligence we use in the care of our corn crop or any of our other cultivated crops. So do not understand that I recommend that all our orchards should be cut down. Rather I

BAD SPRAINS OR MUSCLE STRAIN

Rub Pain, Ache, Soreness and Swelling Right Out With "St. Jacobs Liniment"

Rub it on a sprained ankle, wrist, shoulder, back or a sprain or strain anywhere, that's when you realize the magic in old, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment," because the moment it is applied, out comes the pain, ache, soreness and swelling. It penetrates right into the injured muscles, nerves, ligaments, tendons and bones, and relief comes instantly. It not merely kills pain, but soothes and heals the injury so a quick recovery is effected. Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment" right now at any drug store and stop suffering. Nothing else sets things straight so quickly—so thoroughly. It is the only application to rub on a bad sprain, strain, bruise or swelling.—[adv.]

Just a few more words about cultivation and I am thru. Orchards that are in their prime should not have any other crop growing in them. They require a great deal of moisture and should be free of crops so that a disc can be used to make a dust mulch that all the moisture may be conserved. It might be wise to sow some cover crop in the fall. If this were worked into the soil it would help to keep up the supply of organic matter.

There are many more things that could be brought out but as I have used more of your time now than I should I will just mention the borer and and I am thru. Young orchards should be inspected very closely. Get down close to the ground and look for a dust similar to saw dust. Or it may be you will have to dig a little dirt from the tree. But keep a lookout for them. And if you find the dust—kill the borer or the borer will kill the tree.

Gentlemen, for your kind attention, I thank you.

FLASH LIGHTS ON THE CENTENARY FROM THE CHICAGO AREA.

The Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church was organized in the Forsythe Street church, New York City, Monday evening, April 5, 1819. The Methodists are celebrating the centennial by a campaign of education, consecration, and contribution. The Chicago Area comprises a group of conferences within a radius of about 200 miles of Chicago and over which Bishop Nichols has Episcopal supervision.

More Than Money—The supreme need and chief aim of the Centenary leaders is an aroused conscience of obligation on the part of the church to the saving of the world and a visit of its possibility.

Business Man's Undertaking—This is pre-eminently a business man's undertaking for it is upon a scale that can only be handled by those who have large experience in money matters and who have the resources at their command.—Bishop Nicholson.

The Women are Better Informed—The women are a thousand percent better informed and more liberal concerning missionary work than are the men.—Bishop Nicholson.

"Bigness" of the Centenary—"The one great thing that I held up before my people all the while was the real "bigness" of the Methodist Centenary.—A pastor who won.

Hamlet Wins First Place—Hamlet, South Bend District, Northwest Indiana conference, has the honor of being the first charge in that district to carry to successful completion the Centenary drive. Dr. J. P. Jenkins assisted in the beginning.

Secretary of the Navy—"I am deeply interested in the movement which the Methodists of America are making in their celebration of the hundred years of missionary endeavor throughout the world. The world is my parish" was the way John Wesley characterized his large mission. This is the spirit of our church today, and I have no doubt its membership will respond generously to this privilege of carrying the gospel to those who sit in darkness, and strengthening those who have only a glimmer of the light that never was on sea or land.—Josephus Daniels.

A Revived, Chastened Methodism—"The Centenary is indeed a revived, chastened Methodism, not consecrating itself to the task of rebuilding the broken world. God is having his way to lead forward Methodist hearts in a unified, harmonious program for rebuilding the Kingdom of God in the Earth.—E. C. Hickman.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

How to Insure Yourself Against Battery Troubles

The first thing to do when you buy an electrically equipped car is to consult the Prest-O-Lite Service Station, (218 South Main St.) Buy a hydrometer syringe and learn how to use it. Find out how to make other simple tests that are necessary to protect the health of your storage.

These periodical tests are highly important. They enable you to tell in advance when your battery is in danger of being ruined through undercharging or overheating—when minor troubles in the electrical system are draining the strength and endurance of your battery—when an inexpensive freshening charge would save expensive dismantling and rebuilding later.

Wise ones see to it that their car is equipped with a PREST-O-LITE Battery. This is your BIGGEST start in lessening battery troubles.

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

Touring Car $925

The crankshaft of the Dort engine weighs 47 pounds. It's heavy—more than usual—but the weight is there to give rigidity and freedom from vibration.

The bearings which carry this crankshaft are nothing less than huge. So are the connecting rod bearings. Size—yes oversize—wherever there's a working strain to hold.

The Dort engine is simple, strong, smooth. We hardly need say it is economical. Dort economy is known to everyone.

Your dealer will tell you about this good engine.

WHITE HALL PLANS BUILDING CAMPAIGN

Effort Being Made to Organize Syndicate to Erect Dwelling Houses—Other News Notes.

White Hall, March 15.—The "Own Your Home" campaign that have been conducted in almost 150 cities and towns in the United States with notable success has been advocated by T. J. Grant, a local contractor and former member of city council as a means of encouraging a building program that will as far as possible meet the demand for houses of the higher grade that has been pressing White Hall for over a year with increasing demands. Coupled with the "Own Your Home" campaign local consideration has been given the recent conference of governors and mayors at Washington at the invitation of President Wilson to consider the problem of reconstruction that must in large measure be met by public work by the cities.

A very large proportion of White Hall laboring men already own their own homes, and the present agitation has found great support in a building program that will care for the application of houses on the part of tenants who demand a high class of residences. W. F. Dillman, who recently returned from California, has become deeply impressed with this situation here, so much so that he proposes to form a syndicate of local residents for the erection of a number of residences of the $4,000 and $5,000 class. This syndicate Mr. Dillman suggests should be capitalized at a minimum of $60,000, and the aim should be to offer these properties on a rental basis at a moderate return on the investment netting probably not more than four per cent, the main object being to bring to White Hall a large number of commercial men and other classes, including some railroad officials, who regard this as an ideal residence city, and would locate here if the desirable kind of property were available. There can be no question about the ability of Mr. Dillman to bring about the organization of this syndicate in short order, affording a building program that will aid in reconstruction immediately and at the same time meet a demand that would give White Hall an impetus excelled by no other plan at this time. The program for public work here will be slow of realization, and much of it must go over to next year. The high school project is held up pending an amendment to the community high school law at the present session of the legislature. The new council will doubtless take up paving at once, but the legal steps will require most of the present year. There will be nothing done with the federal building this year further than the location of a site and clearing it for building operations during 1920. The library proposition will hardly be reached this year. Thus it will be seen that if any building is to begin this spring it will depend on the prompt action of Mr. Dillman in organizing his building syndicate for the erection of residences of the higher class. Mr. Dillman evidently takes the view that the high cost of delay is more serious than the present cost of building. Mrs. Walter Sheppard left Saturday for Fort Worth, Texas, where Mr. Sheppard has engaged in the garage business following his discharge from the aviation service at that point and they will reside there. A place in the White Hall post office had been reserved for Mr. Sheppard, and his decision not to return will bring Warren Lorton back from his position as deputy county clerk, to which he was recently appointed and accepted on the theory that Sheppard would return to his post office job held by Lorton. This leaves a vacancy in the office of deputy county clerk at Carrollton.

Willard Bailey, one of the new owners of the Gregory ranch, has arrived from Franklin Grove, near Dixon, and is getting located in the ranch house to begin the management. The property comprises about 2,000 acres, and will be devoted to grain farming and stock feeding. Mr. Meredith, Bailey's partner in the purchase of the ranch from W. D. Fairbanks, has been here for some time in preparation of taking charge. This deal sets at rest the plans of Mr. Fairbanks for dividing the ranch up in small farms. The new owners are considering the straightening of the course of Apple Creek and thus reclaiming great quantities of the ranch from overflow. This reclamation project is as old as a generation, but there are prospects of action now being taken. A new road will also be laid thru the ranch that will give an outlet to the city. This road proposition is one in which the city should take an active interest.

A. E. Knight and son Clement are both recovering.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

The new college catalog has just come from the press. It was edited by a committee of the faculty of which Professor Stella L. Cole is chairman. The summary of college students shows a total registration this year of 240 the largest number in the history of the college. However, a large proportion of this registration consisted of S. A. T. C. boys, many of whom did not return to college after the demobilization of the unit. The total registration in all departments is 445.

A letter recently received by the college authorities indicates that the members of the S. A. T. C. will also be entitled to the salary bonus of $60 from the government.

Ernest Rutherford, '18, was ordained to the Baptist ministry at the First Baptist church of this city Wednesday evening of this week.

A recent number of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society contains an article by J. T. Dorris, '11, on "The Oregon Trail." This article is a thesis which Mr. Dorris presented to the faculty of the University of Wisconsin for his A. M. degree.

The regular devotional meeting at Academy hall Sunday evening will be led by Miss Betty Ames. Ralph Baker, a member of the present senior class, who has recently returned from overseas was a welcome visitor on the campus early in the week. Ralph was on his way home having recently been discharged from the service. It is his intention to return to college and graduate with his class. He happened to be on the same transport with Coach Harmon in going over.

Lieut. Harry McLaughlin, ex-'17 now of the artillery, was a visitor on the campus Friday.

Plans are being made by the college for the entertainment of the Illinois Academy of Sciences, which will hold most of its meetings in the college lecture halls on March 21 and 22. The college will give a complimentary luncheon to the members of the association at Academy hall Saturday noon. Professor Isabel Smith, of the department of biology, is the chairman of the committee on local arrangements. The other educational institutions of the city are co-operating in the entertainment of this distinguished scientific society.

The address given in the College chapel Friday morning by Miss Catherine Olmsted proved to be one of the most interesting war talks that have been given at the college.

The student societies of the college have recently organized a college forum. The plan is to hold a meeting on alternating Saturday evenings at which time the different literary societies and other organizations of the student body will contribute various numbers to the program.

H. W. Holmer of Quincy was a visitor with city friends yesterday.

"Seein' Things At Night"

TO MOTHERS! Guard your kiddies against torpid liver, sour stomach, constipated bowels which generate poisons. These "inside" poisons circulate to the brain, producing bad dreams, then a feverish head. Unless you "work" out these poisons you will have a real sick youngster shortly. Cascarets are a candy cathartic, ideal for children. Cost only 10 cents a box. Read below!

Children love Cascarets because they taste like candy. When your child has a white tongue, feverish breath, foul stomach, give Cascarets anytime to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and bowel poison from the clogged-up places. You needn't coax even cross, sick children to take these harmless candy "Cascarets." They never gripe—never injure. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box contains directions and dose for children aged one year old and upwards.
